

You are welcome to use this for your own personal use. You are also welcome to share my blog link www.livinglifeintentionally.blogspot.com - I hope many people are able to make use of my printables. Just please do not host on your own site or link directly to the download. Thanks! I love comments! If you like this - let me know!

Cut out tickets & use to go go around the world to make your apple pie. Cut out passport & staple together to make a passport. I stamped each entry with letter of country we 'visited' to reinforce letters. Older kids could write out country & stamp. For Customs Declaration (like real life) you have to declare if you are taking food/livestock out of the country. That helped them remember what we got at that country.

<Cut and paste behind passport cover

<Have kids draw their picture or glue in a 1 1/2" x 2" picture of them

<Write kids name, age & address (then it looks official & gives them practice writing & remembering those important pieces of information!)

Cut, insert in passport cover, and staple together to make a book. You can print on both sides if you like.

We used the passport & tickets along with our book study of How to Make an Apple Pie & See the World. But you can use them for any Geography or country study.

Here are some extra tickets in case your travels take you anywhere else!
